

Finding Nantucket

MR. ROBERT RATTCLIFF.
SKETCH OF ONE OF THE NANTUCKET SEA-KINGS.

Some few weeks since I gave you an account of Mr. Robert Rattcliff, who was one of the sailors that belonged to ship Northumberland, which took Napoleon to Saint Helena in 1813. The slip was copied into the New York Evening Post from your paper, and a lad of sixteen years read it in Rockport, Illinois. He was so interested in the subject that he has written here for a fuller account, and for the autograph of the old hero. He, no doubt, is the only person alive, on this side of the Atlantic, at least I think so, that was in that remarkable company, over sixty years ago. With these views, I thought it would be interesting to your many readers to more fully detail his eventful career, as related by him to the writer from time to time in his pleasant life among our people in the fifty-eight years past.

Mr Rattcliff was born at Newcastle-upon Tyne, England, February 23, 1794. At eleven years of age he went into a factory where watch-crystals were manufactured. This not proving to his taste, he left, and was apprenticed to sea-life for seven years, his father meanwhile paying for a membership, when of age, of Trinity House of Newcastle. These papers he still preserves in a frame, and shows them with much enthusiasm, for they made him a free man entitled to vote when of age, and conferred some other privileges upon him, and I am happy to add the corporation of Trinity has recently held correspondence with him and owned him as a brother in a foreign land! He went on board the Malabar frigate, which joined a thousand war-ships and transports gathering in the Downs.

They sailed for Copenhagen, and Rattcliff, in the Prince of Wales, was present at the taking of the Danish capital and of all the war-ships in the port, including some which were on the stocks. These were carried to England, and two of these ships from the stocks were in time famous whalers in the South seas.

We next find him conveying transports with troops from England, for Wellington in Spain, and bringing back ship-loads of famished, fever-stricken soldiers, who died by the hundreds upon the passage, and even after they had arrived in the Downs, thousands died and were thrown into the sea, with mattresses, bed-clothes and wardrobe, leaving nothing behind to spread the pestilence.

He next was on service in the Baltic, and was frozen up there in the winter of 1813. In the spring he arrived home, and was immediately impressed upon the ship Albion, 74, Captain Devonshire, belonging to a large fleet, one of which was the Shannon, frigate, that afterwards fought and took our United States ship Chesapeake in 1813. When they arrived in Halifax they took a pilot to the Albion from the fleet, and sailed for a cruise off our coast; and, when just south of Nantucket, they fell in with the ship Monticello, Captain Barristal (of the name of Nantucket from the Pacific ocean, full of sperm oil. They took Captain Coffin out of his ship, and sent her, a bony prize, to Halifax with all her crew. They then sailed for Gardner's bay, Long Island, and landed Captain Coffin. Here Sir George Cockburn transferred his flag to the Albion, and they proceeded to the Chesapeake bay to cooperate with the fleet from England and the troops under Sir Peter Parker and General Ross in the contemplated attacks on Baltimore and Washington.

Sir George Cockburn built a battery at Tangier Island to engage the batteries on the Maryland shore and against the forts. When General Ross arrived from England they were ready to proceed with the work. Soon General Ross and Sir Peter

Tristram Coffin and the "Nine original purchasers"

Soon after this, it was deemed expedient to encourage others to emigrate to the Island, such as seamen, mechanics, &c. For this purpose, they mutually agreed to take in what was called half share men; as follows:

John Bishop, two half shares in	1639
Peter Folger, one do	1662
Hleazor Folger, do do	"
Wm Worth, do do	"
Thomas Macy, do do	"
Joseph Coleman, do do	1665
Richard Gardner, two do	1616
Joseph Gardner, one do	1667
Samuel Sireeter, do do	"
Nathaniel Wjer, 1/2 do	"
Wm Worth, 1/2 do	1671
John Gardner, one do	1672
Nathl Holland, do do	"

Making fourteen half shares; and in all 27 shares.

In 1660, May 10. Sachems Warnock and Nicknawee, for and in behalf of the people of his Island, in consideration of £25 sterling, conveyed by deed of out half the Island, including the town of Nantucket, to the ten first purchasers who afterwards took in other associates. The charter right to the Island was bought by Thomas Mathew, of Water-town of Joseph Petrick, steward of Lord Sterling, in 1641, and afterwards sold by said Mathew to Tristram Coffin and his associates, who settled here in 1639 under the above title...

Nantucket Historical Association

New-York Gazette 1821/09/04
America's Historical Newspapers

Nantucket Historical Association

Tristram Coffin and the "Nine original purchasers"

Nantucket Historical Association

<http://parkmangenealogy.wordpress.com/category/uncategorized/page/3/>

Offshore Whaling

Nantucket Historical Association

Georgios-Spyridon Athanasopoulos

Nantucket Historical Association

Nantucket Historical Association

PUBLISHED BY GIBBIE & CO. 111 NASSAU ST. N.Y.

http://upload.wikimedia.org/wikipedia/commons/1/1a/Walfang_zwischen_1856_und_1907.jpg

Susan Snyder, George Thomas

Offshore Whaling

Nantucket Historical Association

Georgios-Spyridon Athanasopoulos

Mary Coffin	3472
Isaiah Coffin	2342
Gilbert Coffin	3875
Levi Coffin	3875
Isaac Coffin	5813
15 George Swain	1997
22 Seth Pincheon	1293
36 Thomas Coffin	790
38 Seth Coffin	749
60 Charles Swain	474
60 Abel Hathaway	474
60 Abner Boston	474
60 John Pinsky	474
60 George Boice	474
60 John Skinnam	474
60 Wm. Deaton	474
60 John Swain	474
70 John Jones	407
65 Primos Tweeder	438
	28743
100 out before Dinner

Nantucket Historical Association

Origin of the Island of Nantucket.

An Indian Tradition.

On the west end of Martha's Vineyard are high cliffs of various coloured earth, known by the name of Gayhead. On the top of the hill is a large cavity, which has the appearance of the crater of an extinguished volcano, and there are evident marks of former subterraneous fires. The Indians who formerly lived about this spot, had a tradition, that a certain deity resided there before the Europeans came to America, that his name was Manshop; that he used to step out on a ledge of rocks, which ran into the sea, and take up whales, which he broiled for his own eating on the coals of the afore-said volcano, and often invited the Indians to dine with him, or gave them the relics of his meal. That once to show their gratitude to Manshop for his great kindness to them, they made an offering to him of all the tobacco which grew upon the Island for one season. This was scarcely sufficient to fill his great pipe, but he received the present very graciously, smoked his pipe and turned out the ashes of it into the sea, which formed the Island of Nantucket. Upon the coming of the Europeans into America, Manshop retired in disgust, and has never since been seen.

Newburyport Herald 1811/05/03
America's Historical Newspapers

Nantucket, March 17. 1723, 4!

Honest Friend JANUS,

IT is pretty well known among you at Boston, by this time, that we of this Island are a rich flourishing People. Besides the great Quantities of Cod-fish prepar'd here for a foreign Market, we take yearly a competent Portion of Royal Fifth; call'd Whales: So that I think we want little else to compleat our Happiness, but a good Orthodox Minister settled among us; for the Scripture saith, Man liveth not by Bread alone.

Indeed, I am not ignorant that we of this Place are accounted by you at Boston a loose sort of People, and inclin'd to Libertinism and Sensuality; a People that esteem every Day voly alike, and have very little Religion but what consists in moral Honesty: And truly, I could wish you had not too much reason to entertain such an Opinion of us. But notwithstanding all this, there are some few among us who have a pretty favourable Opinion of Religion, and conscientious Observers of the First Day of the Week, that is to say, in our way; and we are

New-England Courant 1724/03/30
America's Historical Newspapers

Susan Snyder, George Thomas

Nantucket Great Fire

GREAT FIRE AT NANTUCKET.
 A great fire which had already consumed many buildings, was still raging at Nantucket, at about 2 o'clock yesterday morning; The only particulars received are contained in the following extract from the Warder Office.
NANTUCKET, July 14, quarter to 8 A. M.
 It becomes our melancholy duty to record one of the most calamitous fires that ever happened in this place. We have had an awful fire.
 The fire is still raging, and God knows when it will end. At one o'clock last evening, the fire was discovered—the flames spread with such rapidity as to baffle every exertion to repress them. The expedient of blowing up houses was resorted to as the only means to arrest the conflagration, but it would seem with little success. More than 20 buildings are thus destroyed, and indeed many more would have been demolished, but that all the powder in the place was consumed. The town presents a scene of devastation that language cannot describe.
 The whole square of buildings bounded by Main, Centre, Broad, and Federal streets is in ruins, and nearly all the buildings opposite them which formed the square. Trinity Church is now in flames, all the buildings on North Water st. as far as Mitchell's inclusive, all the buildings on Main st. from E. H. Radell's to Straight Wharf on Union st. as far as the buildings occupied by the town officers inclusive, Washington st. as far as Capt. J. H. Pease's.
 Mr. Ruggles House on Orange st. was blown up and arrested the flames at that point. The aggregate loss is at present incalculable. Many rumors are afloat of injury received by divers individuals but are so vague, and the whole town in such confusion, it is utterly impossible to arrive at the truth.
 We are at this moment told that no one has been severely hurt. The Enquirer and Morning Herald printing offices are both destroyed.

Auburn Journal and Advertiser 1846/06/22
 America's Historical Newspapers

Nantucket Great Fire

- Churches
- Banks
- Offices
- Schools-Institutions
- Houses
- Shops

1. Athenaeum—Museum.
2. Pacific Nat. Bank.
3. Academy.
4. Coffin School.
5. Old Mill, Built 1761.
6. Olden House, Built 1699.
7. Soldiers' Monument.
8. Asylum.
9. Inset Point Light House.
10. North (Congregational) Church.
11. South (Catholic) Church.
12. Methodist Episcopal.
13. Baptist.
14. Friends.
15. Protestant St. Baptist.
16. Catholic.
17. Episcopal.
18. U. S. Life Saving Station.
19. Fair Grounds.
20. Water Works Reservoir.
21. Big Light House.

BIRD'S EYE VIEW OF THE TOWN OF NANTUCKET
 STATE OF MASSACHUSETTS.
 LOOKING SOUTHWEST
 1881

PUBLISHED BY J. J. STONER, MADISON, WIS. DESIGNED AND ENGRAVED BY PHILIP STUBBS, MADISON, WIS.

22. Ocean House, Geo. G. Mead, Prop.
23. Springfield House, A. S. Hawley, Prop.
24. Sherburne House, T. H. Smith, Jr., Prop.
25. Bay View House.
26. American House, G. A. Burgess, Prop.
27. Ocean View House, Colonel W. S. Chase, Prop.
28. Atlantic House, Seaman.
29. School House, Seaman.
30. South School House and Town Hall.
31. Engine House.
32. Steamboat Wharf.
33. Cliff Bathing Houses.
34. Customs House.
35. Post Office.
36. Nantucket Railway.
37. Macomet Pond.
38. Blinnetown.
39. Prospect Hill Cemetery.
40. Friends.
41. North Cemetery.

Sanborn Maps Comparison

Sanborn Maps Comparison

1887

Georgios-Spyridon Athanasopoulos

1910

- Churches
- Banks
- Schools-Institutions
- Leisure
- Shops
- Railroad

Susan Snyder, George Thomas

Census Data

65 22 56	John Broad	Male	A 2 24/1/19	American	Portuguese	Portuguese	English	Merchant	Lowell	MA	1872	18	19	20
	Maria M	Female	A 2 23/1/19	American	American	American	English	Fisherman	Lowell	MA	1872	18	19	20
65 22 57	John Adams	Male	A 2 24/1/19	American	Portuguese	Portuguese	English	Merchant	Lowell	MA	1872	18	19	20
65 22 58	Maria M	Female	A 2 23/1/19	American	American	American	English	Merchant	Lowell	MA	1872	18	19	20

72 52 59	Maria M	Female	A 2 23/1/19	Portuguese	Portuguese	Portuguese	English	Merchant	Lowell	MA	1872	18	19	20
	John Adams	Male	A 2 24/1/19	American	American	American	English	Merchant	Lowell	MA	1872	18	19	20
	Maria M	Female	A 2 23/1/19	American	American	American	English	Merchant	Lowell	MA	1872	18	19	20

77 176	John Adams	Male	A 2 24/1/19	American	American	American	English	Merchant	Lowell	MA	1872	18	19	20
77 177	Maria M	Female	A 2 23/1/19	American	American	American	English	Merchant	Lowell	MA	1872	18	19	20
77 178	John Adams	Male	A 2 24/1/19	American	American	American	English	Merchant	Lowell	MA	1872	18	19	20

81 225	John Adams	Male	A 2 24/1/19	American	American	American	English	Merchant	Lowell	MA	1872	18	19	20
81 226	Maria M	Female	A 2 23/1/19	American	American	American	English	Merchant	Lowell	MA	1872	18	19	20
81 227	John Adams	Male	A 2 24/1/19	American	American	American	English	Merchant	Lowell	MA	1872	18	19	20

